Mark Alexander Baranowski was born September 9, 1981 with rare congenital heart defects. He was a class of 2000 graduate from Central Dauphin High School. Alex then continued his education at Harrisburg Area Community College. In 2001, Alex was a patient at the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia and through their care was given four more years to live.

The most important things in Alex's life were his family, friends, and sports. Alex lived life to the fullest and he taught us to make the most of each day. We are holding the fifth annual Al B. Open in his memory to benefit the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia. Thank you for your consideration and support.

The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia is the Nation's first hospital devoted exclusively to caring for children. They are one of the leading pediatric and research facilities in the world. They are a non-profit hospital and accept children from across the country and world.

We are excited to extend to you an invitation for the Fifth Annual Al B. Open. The past four years have been extremely successful and fun. Once again, thank you to all who helped honor Alex by contributing their time, money, and skills. As a result of your involvement, we were able to donate an astounding $75,000 to the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia in the past four years! Amazingly, the Al B. Open was among the top contributors to the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia last year. We appreciate your generosity and hope to once again receive your support
